Honors Convocation Today To Recognize Scholarships

Recognition of outstanding scholastic achievements will be given this morning at the annual Honor's Day convocation. The all-school assembly will be held in the auditorium at 9:30 a. m.

Students honored will be those who have been on the Dean's Honor Roll during the spring, summer or fall academic semesters. A 3.3 average must have been made to receive recognition.

Special commendation will also be given freshmen honor society members, Corinthian Society members, and recipients of scholarships.

The convocation schedule is as follows: 8:30-8:45; 8:45-9:20, convocation, 9:30-10:20; 10:30-11:05; 11:15-11:50.

Convocation speaker will be W. Earl Hall, editor of the Mason City, Iowa, Globe-Gazette. Hall is a member of the Red Cross Board of Governors.

Hall's topic will be "Men Who Have Dared." Graduated from the University of Iowa in 1918, Hall received a Doctor of Law Degree at Cornell College in 1946.

Dean Jay B. MacGregor extends the invitation for everyone to attend. "The speaker's background warrants a good University representation."

Committee Selects Magazine Entries

The editorial staff of the Grain of Sand has announced the selection of contributions for its spring edition. The literary magazine is published semi-annually, once in both the spring and fall semesters.

A contest was held among the Omaha High Schools for the best short story and poetry entries. Anne Marie Hruska and Annette Nicas, Central High students, won the short story and poetry contests, respectively.

Omaha University students whose literary works will be published include Jean Turnbow, Anne McConney, and H. S. Howard, poems and play. Short story entries were submitted by Susan Bivin, Sam Bittner and Eileen Brown.

All entries were submitted to Dr. Ralph Wardle, English department head. The articles were selected by the editorial staff. Publication date of the magazine is set for early May.

University Holds Language Tests

Spoken Foreign Language Contests were sponsored this week by the Department of Foreign Languages and Literatures for high school students of Omaha and Council Bluffs.

Four to eight-minute speeches in French, Spanish and German were delivered without notes by the high schoolers. Two prizes for each contest were given on the basis of fluency of speech, organization of material, grammatical correctness and proper pronunciation. Also considered as part of the contest was evidence of understanding commentaries on slides of scenes from France, Spain and Germany.

"The Contribution of France to the Life and Culture of United States" was the speech topic for Tuesday. Spain and Latin America and Germany's contributions were discussed on Wednesday and Thursday, respectively.

This Week in Council Petitions Due For Election

Petitions of candidates for the Apr. 28 all-school election must be filed soon.

Senior girls who wish to be candidates for Princess Attira XX will file petitions in the Dean of Students Office before noon Tuesday.

Student Council and Board of Student Publications candidates must petition for candidacy by noon Apr. 20, first day of school after spring vacation. Petitions are due in the Deans' office.

Two girls and two boys of each class will be elected to Student Council. Next semester juniors and seniors may petition and be candidates for the two posts on the Board of Student Publications.

The spring election will be conducted by Student Council members in the Student Lounge between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m., Apr. 28.

Council members at their Tuesday meeting decided to declare the April 28 Prexy Party an open meeting. Students and faculty are asked to attend so they may better understand the allocation of student activities funds.

Jim Erixon, Council treasurer, will explain the activities budget and lead the discussion. Erixon, Joan Haven and Rae Johnson set up the '54-'55 budget last week. President Milo Bail will go over the budget soon.

OU To Host Industry Meet

The University will be host to the Omaha Industrial Editors Wednesday morning. The group will meet in the auditorium for its annual meeting and noon luncheon.

Howard N. King, Intertype Corporation typographic counselor, will be guest speaker at the meeting. King will give an illustrated talk on "Designing a Modern House Organ."

Howard King . . . traveling typographer.

The typographic counselor has been touring the country speaking to printing and advertising organizations for the last ten years.

A special rate of 75 cents will be given to students who wish to attend. Members of the University Press Club will attend. Anyone interested in attending should contact Robert McGranahan, director of printing and information, for reservations before Monday afternoon.

The APO has set a goal of $1,000. Final figures on the success of the drive will be announced this afternoon at 3 p. m. in the Student Center. Maynard Tatelman is chairman of the drive.

University Players To Give "The Winter's Tale" Tonight

Junior Prom Election

An all-school election of Junior Prom Girl will be conducted Monday from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. in the Student Lounge by Student Council members.

Candidates for Junior Prom Girl are Joan Rentschler, Alpha Xi Delta; Virginia Cline, Sigma Kappa; Pat Norman, Zeta Tau Alpha and Donna Reynolds, Chi Omega.

The winner will be announced during the intermission of the Junior Prom Wednesday night.

Campus Chest Closes Today

Today is the final day for contributions to the Campus Chest Drive. Money may be deposited for candidates in the booth in the main floor hall.

The campus drive went into full swing last Monday morning with the opening of a booth in the main hall.

The booth is manned by members of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, who are collecting the monetary votes for the Ugly Man-Cutest Pan contestants. Each vote costs one penny and stuffing of the ballot boxes is encouraged.

Cutest Pan contestants are Jerry Kribs, Alpha Xi Delta; Pat Vogel, Chi Omega; Merlene Terrell, Sigma Kappa and Nancy Latimer, Zeta Tau Alpha.

Contestants for Ugly Man are John Lastovica, Pi Kappa Alpha; Sam Marasco, Theta Chi; Charles Dresser, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Jim Gathmann, Phi Beta Chi; Al Fellman, Phi Epsilon Pi and Godfrey Horacek, Lambda Chi Alpha. Bob Rasmussen of the Press Club, Bill Beran of ISA and Football Coach Lloyd Cardwell are other candidates.

Fifty percent of the proceeds will go to the Community Chest, thirty percent to the World University Service and twenty percent to the Red Cross.

The APO has set a goal of $1,000. Final figures on the success of the drive will be announced this afternoon at 3 p. m. in the Student Center. Maynard Tatelman is chairman of the drive.

Choir To Give April Concert

The University Choir will present the second annual Spring Concert in the Omaha University auditorium 8:15 p. m., Apr. 21. The choir is in its second season of concerts.

The program opens with a group of four sacred anthems for a capella choir featuring the Nicene Creed by the Russian composer, Alexander Gretchaninoff, entitled "Credo." The soloist chanting the creed as the choir sings "I Believe" is Jerald Lepinski.

Grand Opera Scene

The second portion of the concert is one of the most famous and popular scenes of grand opera. The choir sings the powerful Coronation Scene from Modeste Mousorgsky's "Boris Godunov." This scene begins with the joyful crowd of Russian people singing their praises of glory to the new Tsar Boris, who has slain the young heir to the throne and arranged to ascend the throne himself.

Boris appears on the scene and sings of his misdeeds, but soon his mood changes and becomes the joyful mood of the crowd and this mood continues through the scene. The soloist is Terry Young who has soloed with the choir on many occasions.

Choral Numbers

The third group is a group of concert choral numbers from different countries. In this group there is heard the Echo Song by the Netherlands composer, Orlando di Lasso. Also there is a new choral setting of a poem by the American poet Carl Sandburg entitled "Fog."

The last group features American folk songs, Negro spirituals and the original choral arrangement of W. C. Handy's "St. Louis Blues." Handy made this arrangement for the Chicago World's Fair in 1933.

This is the second season of concerts of the University Choir under the direction of Richard H. Brewer. This group has concertized in and around Omaha at local high schools recently. The choir will appear in Lexington, Nebraska, Apr. 22.

Seniors' Money Due

Seniors must pay their $5.50 class assessment today. The main floor ticket office will be open from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. to collect the money. The fee covers the senior dinner-dance, class gift and Senior day tree expenses.

Prof To Speak To Secretaries

A seminar for "Today's Secretary," sponsored by the Ak-Sar-Ben and Neboma chapters of the National Secretaries Association and the Omaha business teachers of the public schools, is scheduled for Apr. 24 at Omaha U.

The program is divided into two sessions. Miss Leta Holley will preside over the morning session and Rex V. Call will preside during the afternoon. Dr. Milo Bail will deliver the welcome and Dr. C. I. Blanchard will speak on "Paper Work and Profits." During the afternoon session, Blanchard will talk on "The Mountain Peaks of Our Profession." Panel discussions and question periods are scheduled for both sessions.

Blanchard is professor of management and head of the Graduate Department of Business Education at the University of Tulsa, Tulsa, Okla. He was director of research for the Gregg Publishing Company and managing editor of "Business Education World" before coming to Oklahoma.

Regents To Give Exams to Seniors

Regents exams for high school seniors in the upper one fourth of their class are scheduled Tuesday in Room 438. The exams are divided into two sessions the first beginning at 8:30 a. m. and the second at 1:30 p. m.

Students taking the exam will be guests of the University for lunch.

Twenty one-year scholarships, three to each of the five Omaha high schools and five to the trade area, are offered.

Let's see . . .

The long and the short of it are found out by Marry Little as she measures Lynne Allen for "The Winter's Tale" costume.

Cast Check Measurements For Spring Play Costumes

Members of the "The Winter's Tale," spring play cast were dangling measuring tapes recently while filling out detained forms sent by the costumer.

The Eaves Costume Co., one of the two largest costumers in New York City, sends blanks which have spaces for the actor's name, the name of the character he plays, and all his sizes including hat and shoes.

Dr. Edwin Clark, play director, said "the Eaves Co. has always sent the costumes in the best and most sanitary condition." He went on to say "There is a new law which makes all costumers put each costume through 20 minutes of live steam before they can be rented again."

Also TV Costumers

The Eaves Co. also provided the costumes for "Brigadoon," the musical recently presented at OU. Many gowns arrived in boxes marked "Show of Shows" and "NBC." This gave the "Brigadoon" cast a sense of the "big time" as they imagined that the outfits they were wearing were worn by Imogene Coca or Sid Caesar on their TV show.

The costumes arrived this week in huge trunks packed to the brim. Forty-two costumes were ordered for the 37-member cast. This still means doubling up in different scenes for some players. Each costume is rented for approximately the same price as an average cotton dress. Delivery is quick; costumes arrive in ten days after they are ordered and information blanks sent.

Editor Slama Heads Class

The university has one instructor who practices the profession he teaches.

Hugo Slama, head of the copy desk of the morning World-Herald, teaches Journalism Copy Editing 116. A graduate of the University of Nebraska with a BA degree in Journalism, Slama has worked for the World-Herald for 11 years. Previously he worked for the Lincoln Star.

"I'm teaching partly as a hobby," said Slama. "Copy desk work is somewhat confining so I welcomed the opportunity to get out and do something a little different but still quite closely connected with my job."

Opportunities are good for persons going into copy desk work, even better than for reporters. Slama believes also that there is a good demand for people who do exacting work, have initiative and imagination.

There is also a better chance for women in journalism than before. More and more women are finding work on the copy desk since the old trade barriers of "No Women" are being broken. This is proved by the ten girls in the Copy Editing 116 class.

New Ideas Begin In Spanish Classes

A new activity has been introduced in the second year Spanish and Spanish for Government Service classes conducted by Dr. C. S. Espinosa.

During every class period two students conduct the class for five or ten minutes each in Spanish. Each student shows four to eight slides featuring Latin America, the Southwest, or Spain, and explains in Spanish the nature, background, and history of the subject of the slides. After the "show" Espinosa asks questions about the slides.

Recently the Spanish class for government service added another feature that has already gained the enthusiastic support of the class. Once a week, one of the students plays Spanish records of famous singers.

arOund

We Love Him

Recently, Economics professor Roderic Crane, asked his economics class for an example of a monopoly in Omaha.

One of the students answered, "The World-Herald."

"How can you say that?" answered Crane, "We have the Gate-way."

Always Interesting

Dr. Leslie Garlough, biology professor, should hold some of his lectures in a larger room.

His latest talk on the male and female attracted a large crowd outside the door.

Yummymmm Yummymmm

Mrs. Nellie Jones, home economics teacher, never wonders where her next meal is coming from. Her advanced clothing students and the girls from the foods lab bring her a practically daily supply of goodies.

After the Ball

As the couples slowly filed out of Peony Park last Friday night, one young swain noticed the haste with which two lads of similar qualifications were leaving. As the two chaps literally crammed their dates into a black, custom built cad-dilly-ac (and it was a dilly), the former swain called to them, "What's the hurry?"

"Got to," replied the concerned face from the back window, "this thing turns into a pumpkin at one o'clock."

In a Big Hurry

Ask Fred Kelly if taking pictures with a long range camera is dangerous. Recently he used one of these cameras, which makes everything look far away, to catch a front view of a fire truck in action. By-standers pulled a startled Fred out of the way in just the nick of time.

Queridos Amigos

A co-ed in a Spanish University will soon have an Omaha University pennant on her wall. Judith Frances from the University of Salamanca in Santander, Spain, wrote her wish for a pennant to the sports department.

A bit of misunderstanding soon brought Dr. C. S. Espinosa to translate the message. A pennant was sent the next day.

Hands Off Policy

It has been brought to the attention of the Gateway that a small minority of persons attending University of Omaha functions, both Greek and all-school, have taken some of the luster off the proceedings by literally pilfering the affair of its decorations.

A recent example was an all-Greek dance held at Peony Park. A sorority spent time and money to create an atmosphere to carry out the theme of its dance. Within an hour after guests arrived, the ballroom was completely stripped of decorations.

If souvenir collectors must collect samples, then the least courtesy they could show to the sponsors would be to wait until the dance or party has neared conclusion. Small paper souvenirs might serve as happy memories, but elaborate displays requiring a lot of time and work, serve no other purpose than a sadistic pleasure of being destructive.

The decorations are put up for the visual enjoyment of everyone and not the destructive enjoyment of a few. If the violators could put themselves in the place of those whose merchandise they are taking, maybe they would act like college students are expected to act at a public affair.

At any rate, some action should be taken to prevent the "life of the party boys" from walking off with someone else's belongings. If corrective action fails, groups have no other course of action than to eliminate decorations from their dance and party plans. It seems unnecessary and unforgiveable that a few people can spoil the fun for everyone else.

Traffic Jam Aid

"Officer No. 3," the guy who hands out tickets for OU parking violations and directs traffic on the East Drive in the mornings, gets a lot of suggestions, most of them unkind, as to how he should carry out his job. Most of the suggestions come from people who have attempted to enter the upper parking lot and have been turned away by "Officer No. 3" because all parking spaces were occupied. These people complain bitterly when, after parking their car some place else, they discover empty stalls in the upper lot.

We don't claim to be parking experts and we haven't conducted a George Barton survey, but none-the-less, we have some suggestions. By having two men on duty from 7:30 to 8 a. m. to direct traffic, we suggest the following:

1. Have one man stand at the entrance to the lot, as now, ready to cut off the line. The other should stand at the back of the lot, and as places fill up, he should walk down the line of cars counting off the number it will take to fill all parking slots.

2. Have one of the men stand at the entrance to each lane, filling up only one lane at a time. By counting off cars to fill each stall, all empty places in each lane would be filled.

3. Set a time, say 7:45 a. m., after which no more cars would be allowed in the upper lot.

One of the men would have to be stationed so that drivers would then not cut through the upper lot exit in search of the "one last" empty stall.

We offer these as suggestions, not as conclusive solutions. We hope the traffic staff will look seriously into the present situation and will try to improve OU's traffic jam. bb

Conclave To Occupy Vacation Weekend

ROTC cadets from the 48 states, Hawaii and Puerto Rico will fly to Omaha next weekend for the two-day national Arnold Air Society conclave.

The fifth annual conclave, being planned by the Omaha University AAS squadron, will attract nearly 1,000 people. The Hotel Fontenelle will be the conclave site.

Activities will include committee meetings, a delegate luncheon, a stag party at the Offutt AF Base Officers' Club, speeches by high-ranking generals and a military ball.

Brig. Gen. M. K. Deichmann, Commandant of AFROTC, will address the first general assembly Friday morning. Later in the day he will inspect the University ROTC department.

The cadet officers will take time out Friday evening for entertainment at the Offutt Officers' Club. Gene Ernst will be master of ceremonies for the stag party. Johnny Vana with his drums, marimba and xylophone, and a quartet consisting of Bob Jones, Bob Klage, Jim Shainholtz and Bob Stryker will entertain.

Eddy Haddad and his orchestra will play for the Conclave Ball Saturday night in the Fontenelle ballroom. Lew Radcliffe will MC. Entertainment will include the Angelettes and the Aerotones.

The conclave will terminate a year's planning by the OU squadron. The Steering committee first began preparations when Omaha was selected as the next Conclave site at last year's Conclave in San Francisco.

John Haury is over-all chairman. Committee chairmen include Jim Klein and Duane Post, business and agenda; John Courtright, accommodations; Dave Meyer, entertainment; Bill Beindorf, publicity; Paul Fesler, comptroller, and Joyce Della, Angels representative.

Accounting Lab Given For First Year Students

The College of Business Administration is currently holding an Accounting lab for first year students in the course. The purpose of the lab is to provide facilities for specialized study.

Time Out

Spring vacation begins after night classes Wednesday. No instruction will be given until 8 o'clock classes open next Tuesday, Apr. 20. The University library will be open daily through vacation.

The next Gateway will come out Friday, Apr. 23.

Plans Progress For Workshop

Final plans are being made for the Real Estate Seminar to be held in the Omaha University auditorium Apr. 15-17. The Seminar is sponsored jointly by Omaha University and Nebraska Real Estate Association.

Registration will begin 8 a. m., Thursday in the Student Lounge.

After a welcome by President Milo Bail, Robert E. Allen, Nebraska Real Estate Association President and Jack Evahn, Omaha Real Estate Board President, will speak.

Ephraim Marks, Omaha attorney, will speak on Conveyancing, and Robert C. Hastings, Nebraska FHA Director and Ralph Mason will speak on FHA Financing.

Following a luncheon in the Faculty Club Rooms, W. D. "Bill" Davis will present a case study in Farm Appraisal and will speak on Farm Inspection.

Second-day registration will be at 8 a. m., Friday in the Student Lounge.

Clive E. Heckenlively from the National American Insurance Co. will speak on Insurance. Value of Business Property Under Long Term Lease will be discussed by Frank Shugrue.

Afternoon speakers will include Kermit Hansen speaking on Advertising; Clifford Hicks, Nebraska University Professor, talking on Economics, and James Cox, Assistant Chief of Examining Section of Loan Division, Veterans Administration, speaking on V. A. Financing.

Saturday's half-day session will begin at 9:30 a. m. Earle V. Johnson will speak on Residential Appraisal.

Reverend Janes To Deliver Meditation at Convocation

State Science Club To Meet

OU will be host to the Nebraska Junior Academy of Science for the first time since 1941. The academy, which is affiliated with the Nebraska Academy of Science, meets annually to present papers and exhibits for the high school students comprising the group.

Two hundred students and their sponsors will convene at OU Saturday, Apr. 24, to look over 35 papers and exhibits on virtually every branch of science. Three short talks will be given on bacteriology, physics and design and fuel for rockets. Exhibits will include a model of an atomic power plant and a diorama of prehistoric animals.

The Nebraska Academy of Science itself, composed mostly of college associated scientists in the state, will hold its own meeting at the same time on the Creighton University campus.

Party Honors Hoff For 15-Year Stay

Over one hundred office and faculty personnel honored Charles Hoff, vice-president in charge of business management, with a surprise party in the faculty clubroom Apr. 1. Hoff is celebrating his fifteenth anniversary with the University.

Mr. Hoff said of the University's progress during those years, "I know of no college or university anywhere that consistently has a more interested or more capable Board of Regents than Omaha U. The sound conservative administration of President Haynes gave the institution a physical plant and a fiscal stability that set the stage for the aggressive academic leadership of President Ball."

The meditation at this year's Easter Convocation will be given by Reverend Harold T. Janes, pastor of the Central Congregational Church. The program will be held in the auditorium at 9:30 Wednesday morning.

Choir Sings

OU president, Milo Bail, will give the invocation, scripture reading and benediction. The University choir, directed by Richard Brewer, will sing "Credo," by Gretchaninoff and "Beautiful Savior" by Christiansen. Also included on the schedule will be the unison singing of two hymns, "When I Survey the Wonderous Cross" and "Beneath the Cross of Jesus."

Joan Mynster will serve as accompanist throughout the program.

Class Schedule

Morning classes will be held as follows: First period, 8:30-8:55; Second period, 8:45-9:20; Convocation, 9:30-10:20; Third period, 10:30-11:05; Fourth period, 11:15-11:50.

The change is necessary because the University will be host to the Industrial Editor's Conference in the auditorium at 11 a. m.

Sullenger Writes Sociology Chapter

Dr. T. Earl Sullenger, Sociology department head, wrote a chapter on education problems for a sociology text.

The 25 chapters of "Analysis of Social Problems" are written by sociology authorities. Editors are Morris C. Caldwell, Professor of Sociology at the University of Alabama, and Laurence Foster, Social Science chairman at Lincoln University.

Dr. Sullenger's chapter states the relationship of education problems in today's society and intervention of knowledge fields.

Junior Prom Dance Marks Start Of Spring Vacation

Social Events Scheduled for '54 Conclave

The social events for the fifth annual national Arnold Air Society Conclave Apr. 16-17, will include a buffet, a stag, a dance and all the entertainment at the disposal of the OU chapter of the Arnold Air Society.

Friday night, official delegates and alternates to the Conclave will attend a buffet supper at the Offutt Air Force Base Officer's Club. A stag party will follow the supper. Any cadet may attend either or both of these affairs.

Jack Irwin's five-piece combo will play at the stag. The Colonel's Quartette will perform for the group and Johnny Vana will entertain the delegates and guests with a tap and instrumental number.

Saturday morning, the delegates and alternates will be greeted at the Fontenelle Hotel, headquarters of the event, with a glass of orange juice given to them by an OU Angel. Plans are underway to set up barrels of the juice in the main foyer of the hotel.

A show of precision marching will be exhibited by the Sabres Saturday afternoon at the hotel.

That evening, in the Hotel Fontenelle Ballroom, Angels and coeds from OU and Omaha will be hostesses at an informal Conclave Ball. Eddy Haddad will play for the affair.

During the intermission at the Ball, the Angelettes, Aero-tones and the Marching Angels will perform.

Angels will act as official hostesses during the entire Conclave. An information booth in the lobby of the hotel will be staffed at all times by two or more Angels.

The 1954 Junior Prom dance will mark the beginning of spring vacation. The all-school, semi-formal dance is Wednesday from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. at Peony Park. Eddy Haddad will play for the dance.

The winner will be presented during the intermission program. She will be elected at an all-school election Monday.

Junior class officers assisted by junior student council members are in charge of the dance.

Janet Brace, secretary-treasurer of the Junior class, is in charge of invitations and flowers. Pat Cogford, council member, is in charge of gifts; Donna Reynolds, council member, of pictures.

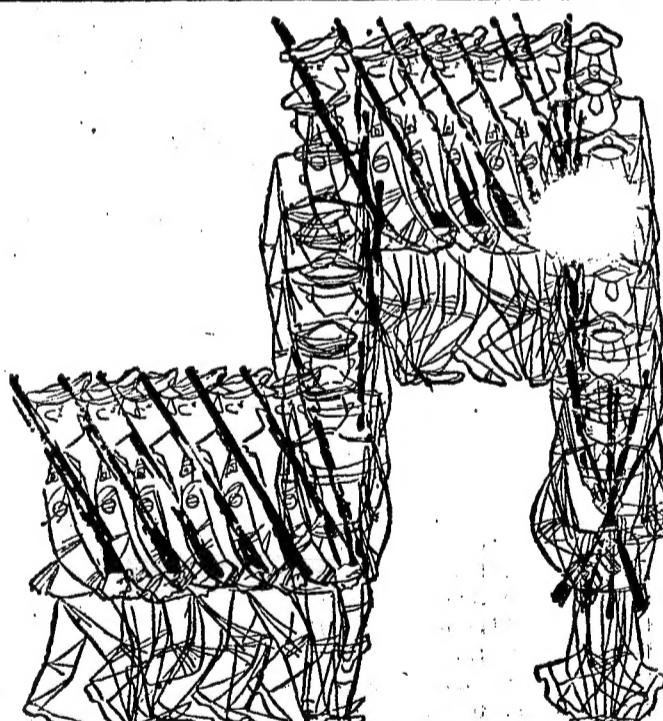

Jim Dubois, Junior class vice-president, and Jerry Tannahill, council member are co-chairmen of decorations. Council member Jim Erixon will take care of the programs.

Harry Johnson, president of the Junior class, is over-all chairman of dance plans.

Ellsworth Will Serve On Home Ec Council

Betty Ellsworth was elected to serve on the state council of the Nebraska Home Economics Association, Mar. 13, at the organization's state convention in Lincoln.

Miss Ellsworth, newly elected vice-president of the OU Home Ec Club, has been appointed publicity chairman of the state council. She will be responsible for publication of the "Newsletter," tri-annual magazine of the group, and all other publicity.

Phi Mu Alpha Has Initiation

Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, national honorary and professional music fraternity, initiated three new members into the group Saturday morning in the Student Lounge.

They are Arnold Epstein, Robert Erickson and Terry Young. Each of the three is either a music major or has four hours of music with an average of C or above.

A luncheon for both old and new members was held following the initiation.

Phi Mu Alpha was installed on the OU campus May 20, 1951. There are now 132 chapters throughout the country. It is the only organization of its type in the United States.

A convocation of American Music will be given by the organization Apr. 28 in the OU auditorium.

Sometime this month CBS radio network will salute the national group with an hour long program.

The OU group is also making plans to form an alumni chapter.

*The Spartan Band that held the pass,
The Knights of Arthur's train
The Light Brigade that charged the guns,
Across the battle plain
Can claim no greater glory than
The dedicated few
Who wear the Wings of Silver
... on a field of Air Force Blue.*

For Fellowship...High Adventure...and a Proud Mission...

wear the wings of the U.S. Air Force!

In days gone by, young men in shining armor ruled the age. Today, a new kind of man rules the age—America's Knights of the Sky, the Air Force Pilots! They rule from on high, in flashing silver-winged Air Force jets . . . a gallant band that all America looks up to! Like the Knights of old, they are few in number, but they represent their Nation's greatest strength.

If you are single, between the ages of 19 and 26½, you can join this select flying team and serve with the finest. You will be given the best jet training in the world, and graduate as an Air Force Lieutenant earning $5,000 a year. Your silver wings will mark you as one of the chosen few who ride the skies in Air Force jets.

As an Air Force pilot, your kingdom is space—a jet is your charger and your mission is the highest. You are a key defender of the American faith, with a guaranteed future both in military and commercial aviation.

Join America's Knights of the Sky, new men of a new age. Be an Aviation Cadet! For further information, fill out this coupon.

Alumni Team Clashes With Varsity Tomorrow

By Dan Digillo

The first Alumni-Varsity football game in University history will be played here tomorrow afternoon.

A large crowd is expected to see the contest which offers Joe Arenas as the main attraction.

Both teams will be loaded with stars from the University past and present, but the limelight should fall on Arenas. Joe has just completed his third year with the professional San Francisco Forty-Niners. He led the league in kickoff returns with close to 36 yards per carry. A San Francisco sports writer said Arenas is one of the best runners he has seen in 10 years.

Line Averages Over 200

The Alumni eleven plans to use Fred Abboud, Bob Anderson, and John Potts with Arenas in the backfield. The Alumni line will average well over 200 pounds with such former stars as Larry Johnson, Jim Spencer, Dick Lane, Charlie Mancuso, Don Maseman, Rusty Johnson and Bob Rose. Rose may see some action from the quarterback slot.

The Varsity doesn't plan to lose any sleep over Arenas, and the big Alumni line. Over 40 boys will be suited up for the game, and Coach Lloyd Cardwell plans on using as many of these boys as possible. They plan to top Arenas and hustle past aging Alumni.

Coach Cardwell said he thinks there will be a lot of passing in the game if the teams find trouble bucking the big lines.

Varsity Ends Workouts

The Varsity will end their workouts which started on Mar. 15, with a light drill without pads. During the month of heavy drills the Indian team didn't suffer any serious injuries. Most injuries occurred outside of school. Guard Simon A. Simon was injured in a car accident, but he should be ready for the game. Don McMehill went fishing and caught only poison ivy. He will miss the game.

The game should be very close. Both teams are equipped with able runners and passers. And both lines are strong on both offense and defense. But I predict the Varsity to overcome an early lead by the Alumni and go on to win the game 20 to 13.

Probable Starters

Probable starters for the Varsity: Bill Englehardt at quarterback, Pete Rigatuso at fullback and Dick Cotton and Arnie Smith at the halfback positions. The ends should be Captain Rudy Rotella and Dick Boyer, tackles Ed Baker and Elwood Mink, guards Simon and Frank Hahn, and the center will be Bill Timmins.

Over a thousand tickets have been sold for the game. Students will be admitted with activity cards. Game time is 2 p.m.

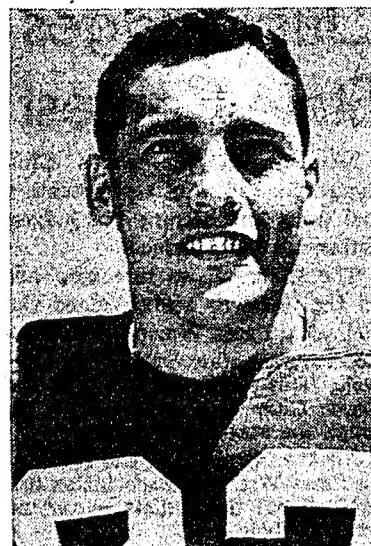

PE Majors Sponsor New Evening Clinic

The PE Majors Club is sponsoring an evening clinic in bait and fly casting for the faculty members on Apr. 29, at 8 p.m. The Fieldhouse facilities with the dirt floor, provide an excellent opportunity for this type of activity.

A Committee has been appointed to work out plans for the PE Majors annual spring picnic on May 2. At that time the Majors will present an award to the student major in Physical Education, who has made the greatest contribution to the field of health, physical education and recreation. This is an annual award and the student major winning this award has his name engraved on a large travel trophy that is kept in the Physical Education Department.

Last year's recipient of this award was Charles Phillips, now teaching and coaching in the school system at Spaulding, Nebr.

The girls majoring in PE are going to have a play night for the men Majors on Apr. 22.

Morningside Meets OU in Season Open

By Ed Rath

Morningside College of Sioux City, Ia., will provide the first competition of the regular season for the OU baseballers today on the Iowan's diamond.

Because both teams have been hampered all season with the lack of practice, there has been talk of postponing the game until later in the season.

First "B" Team Game

The first "B" team game of the season has been slated for Apr. 12, against Luther College on the Wahoo diamond. Bob Moscrey has been handling the "B" team with Bugs Redden serving as student assistant.

On Apr. 13, the varsity will travel to Indianola, Ia., where they will face Simpson College. Coach Virgil Yelkin stated that Simpson is a good club with plenty of experience and a good pitcher. Midland College of Fremont will test the Indians on Apr. 15.

First Home Game

Hastings College will provide the OU nine with their first home game on the afternoon of Apr. 17, at 1:30.

Coach Yelkin stated that he is still searching for a top-notch pitcher. Yelkin listed his three top chucks as Chris Salberg, John Stella, and Al Italia. Bob Ladd has been showing promise as the fourth thrower. Stan Schaetzle and Cal Helme have been working out as relief hurlers.

Top Candidates

Top candidates being considered for outfield duties are Dave Langevin, Don Claussen, Jim Swanson, Dick Tannahill, Don Sterba, Bill Petrik and Bob Burgess. At the present it looks like Langevin, Claussen, and Swanson hold the top hand among the outfielders, and they will get the starting call against Morningside.

Swanson's First Appearance

Swanson will be making his first appearance with the OU varsity. He is a good southpaw slugger. Langevin is a letterman with a good batting eye and should provide the Indians with plenty of defensive punch. Claussen is one of the two regulars left from last year's club who will add a little experience to the rookie lineup.

Don Hansen is the only other regular from last year's team. Don has been working out at shortstop and second base.

Team Needs Seasoning

Coach Yelkin hopes that boys now participating in spring football will try out for the baseball squad when the football drills close.

Coach Yelkin said, "With a little experience we will have the makings of a good ball club."

The Alumni-Varsity baseball game scheduled for last Saturday was postponed because of cold weather.

Off the Cuff Sports News

Dean Wilson, one of last year's leading golfers for the University has not yet reached par this year. The usual calm golfer was not among the starters after the golf team held its intra-squad match.

Don Blocker, OU's gift to the tennis world, stated that he is feeling better than in any other previous year. He expects this to be his best year in tennis.

Coach Lloyd Cardwell stated that he was very pleased with the way the boys showed up for spring football this year. Over 40 boys were out on the gridiron when workouts began on Mar. 15. He is also very pleased with the way the students are showing interest in the coming Alumni-Varsity game.

Coach Ernie Gorr said that he liked the way Larry Means looked in his first attempt at the mile run. Larry is a sophomore, and OU track fans can expect to see plenty of fine running from Means. Gorr was also pleased with the way Marv Olson has looked in running the hurdles.

Coach Virgil Yelkin's main problem this season in baseball seems to be lack of pitchers. The team is loaded with rookies, and a seasoned pitcher would help the diamond crew.

Charlie Mancuso, former OU wrestler and football star, is still trying to get a wrestling team for Omaha University. Mancuso stated that he hopes to have enough boys show interest so that the school can have a team as soon as next year.

Sigma Phi Epsilon, last year's winner of the Sweepstakes trophy, are leading again in intramural athletics. They are well on their way to winning the trophy again.

Parker Shipley, making his first attempt to run the mile after only two weeks of workout, puffed around the track. On his second lap he shouted to a nearby onlooker, "If I get work I'll write."

The sports editor would like to write something about this new sport wicket, but he doesn't know whether to kick it or throw it.

Outdoor Track Plans Changed

The Intramural outdoor track meet originally scheduled for Apr. 5, was postponed until Monday by Intramural Athletic Director Ernie Gorr. The meet will start at 3:30 p.m.

The last Intramural outdoor meet was held three years ago when the Otoes walked off with the team championship. Events that will be run off Monday afternoon are: 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, 440 yard dash, 880 yard run, mile run, 120 yard high hurdles, 220 yard low hurdles, shot put, discuss, broad jump, high jump, pole vault and 880 yard relay.

ISA Still Leads Bowlers

Because of the track postponement the Intramural sports program was slack the past week. Only active participation was bowling. Sioux moved into the second place position replacing Lambda Chi who dropped to third. ISA is still leading the league with 34 victories and 17 defeats.

Intramural Softball

Intramural managers who would like more information on the coming softball season should check with Gorr. There is still an outside chance of newcomers getting their team into the league.

OU Cinderamen Ready For South Dakota Invitational

Coach Ernie Gorr and his track squad face their next two opponents away from the home grounds. Tomorrow the team faces 11 schools throughout the midwest in the South Dakota Invitational track meet.

After grabbing a second place last year, the team hopes to return to Vermillion and take top honors. Teams from Iowa, South Dakota and Nebraska, are entered in the top SDU track attraction of the year.

Indians Have Depth

The 154 Indian squad is full of depth in the sprints, broad-jump and high jump, but is lacking in the distances and weights. Gorr stated he will take as many men on the trip as will have a possibility of scoring.

Washburn Next Foe

Next Tuesday the team will go to Topeka, Kans., to face Washburn University. The Ichabods won on their home grounds in 1952, and Omaha won last year on the Indian's track so both squads will be pressing for their second win in three years.

Pole-vaulter Dick May and quarter-miler Wayne Larsen are both favoring injured legs. May turned his ankle and vaulted under 11 feet in the last meet, and Larsen pulled a thigh muscle in the opening 440 yard dash against Midland and Dana.

Dunbier, Garrett One Two

Roger Dunbier and LaRue Garrett, the junior high-jumping specialists, are finding competition among themselves rougher than the other teams. The two have finished either first or second in almost all the meets this season.

OUWI Vote To End Today on Candidates

Indian Golfers Win, Lose

Omaha University golfers finally hit the winning column last Tuesday by dumping Nebraska University 15 to 6 in a match played at the Omaha Country Club.

OU Trackmen Win Triangular

Omaha University copped its first outdoor track meet last Friday as they won over Midland and Dana in a triangular. The Indians rolled up 84 points to win over Midland's 49 points and Dana with 37.

Six meet records fell in the afternoon inaugural. Bill Barnes streaked over the 120-yard high hurdles in :15.5 to break the old mark. And Dana's Rodney Weed won by a yard in the 100-yard dash in :10.2.

Bernie Lainson ran a 2:05.6 half mile and provided the kick leg on the mile relay squad to help the quartet maintain their undefeated season.

Neil Moore of Dana won the pole vault over Dick May and Joe Paddu with a leap of eleven feet.

OUWI members who have participated in two or more sports are eligible to vote in the quonset. Members of bowling, Orchesis or the Rifle Club may vote if they have participated in one other sport. Results will be announced at the spring banquet.

Results of the archery tournament have been released. Leaders are Helen Howell, 200; Blanche Bell, 162; Louann Focht, 147, and Mary Wooley, 131.

The first round in the rifle tournament must be played off by tonight. Schedules for the double elimination games are 10 to 12 a.m. and 1 to 4 p.m.

Persons interested in singles and doubles competition in the table tennis tournament have until Apr. 15 to register. The tournament will begin after spring vacation.

Looks vs. Brains

Execs., Secs., Sex Figure in Squabble

A New York advertising director recently attempted to answer a question put to her by a group of college placement bureau chiefs: "What does a top executive look for in a secretary?"

The answer: "First and foremost he's looking for a looker."

The New York ad woman admitted that this "preoccupation with sex appeal on the part of the employer may not be noble and high minded." But it's there, she said, "and you can't fight it."

The reaction to this statement wasn't long in coming. Said a New York personnel director: "A secretary is more than a stenographer with sex appeal. She must know how to handle people. She should understand business law and economics. She should know enough about her boss's job to take over in emergencies."

One of the sharpest retorts came from a young lady recently graduated from a liberal arts school: "Does she (the ad woman) think any self-respecting college placement service would want to see its intelligent, attractive girls trained four academic years to coo in the ears of three chins and an ulcer?"

Taking the middle ground, the president of a large New York department store said salesgirls and young executives should be more attractive because their work involves contact with other people.

"But," he added, "a girl has to be able to handle her job to keep it, and attractiveness alone will not help her keep it."

James Spitalny, brother of Phil Spitalny and owner of the All-Girl Job Center in Chicago, said employers usually look for "personable, not good-looking secretaries."

From the director of a southern business college came these words: "The slick chick has a miserable time in the office and does not last."

He gave these rules for college women interested in secretarial work:

1. Dress neatly.
2. Avoid too much makeup and low-cut dresses.
3. Be articulate.
4. Most important, get along with other women.

Students at Cambridge University in England have formed a new club dedicated to the betterment of knife throwing at the institution.

Collegiate Capers

Most of us are probably satisfied to have the average read-in speed of 250 words a minute. Not so with George Murch, student at Denver University.

Murch, considered one of the fastest readers in the world, has a normal reading pace of 5,000 words a minute. His top speed is a phenomenal 8,000 words a minute—equivalent to reading the novel, "Gone With the Wind," in an hour.

Unusual item of the week: a male student has chosen to major in kindergarten teaching at the University of Cincinnati.

But this student, the only male in a class of about 60 coeds, says there's nothing unusual about this. "After all," he explains, "I'm doing, on a larger scale, what every man does at home during the time he rears his own small children."

Here's a story that's still circulating even though the basketball season is over.

Last month two Oklahoma City University basketball players were suspended for studying until 11 p. m. after the coach had ordered lights out at 10:30 before an important game.

The Ivy Trail . . .

By George Georgeff

After a supposedly careful and thorough survey of the nation's colleges and universities, a reporter for Redbook Magazine last week came to this startling conclusion: "Our colleges are being invaded by an atmosphere of fear and suppression created by irresponsible investigators, hysterical community leaders and other self-appointed 'thought police' who have succeeded in intimidating both our students and faculties."

The Redbook reporter, after many interviews with students, revealed that they are becoming afraid to ask questions on controversial subjects; afraid to champion unpopular causes even when they feel that's the right thing to do; and afraid to criticize our political and economic ways or try to improve them.

Here is a sampling of comments made by students in the interviews conducted by Redbook Magazine:

Said a law student at Ohio State University, "It seems to me that you go to college to think. If people are afraid to think until they get the word from some Government committee that it's okay—and many are today—you might as well close up the colleges."

The past president of the University of Michigan's student legislature put it this way: "In a healthy democracy, everybody ought to be politically active. But I think today's students will avoid any political activity when they get out of college. Why shouldn't they? They're taught to withdraw from it in college."

These words came from the editor of the student newspaper at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology: "Students today don't feel that they're free to sample every idea, as they used to be."

The editor of Ohio State University's campus newspaper had this to say: "Communism is a touch-me-not subject for both professors and students. As a result, students don't know enough about it—and it's very important for our generation to know all about communism so that we can combat it intelligently."

The reporter for Redbook magazine went on to say that students are afraid to vent their feelings because previous graduates have been denied jobs and commissions in the armed services "because they joined or contributed to some organization or attended some meeting."

He noted that at the University of Michigan, an investigator of the State Police takes down the names of those attending meetings or "liberal" or "leftist groups."

"Such actions on campus," he said, "will undoubtedly inhibit a student's self-expression and thinking and is an offense against their freedom."

He is convinced that present day students are capable of handling free and open discussions on the subject of communism. He quoted one student as saying "We can beat the radicals—in the sunlight."

Actionless Verb

Attention all English instructors: it was reported last week that our young men in the armed services stationed in Europe have added a new verb to the American language.

The new verb is "schine," as in "You're schined from K. P. duty, soldier, and your chauffeur's waiting."

The reference is to Private G. David Schine, formerly of Senator McCarthy's investigatory committee. He had received special treatment in the Army through the influential work of Ray Cohn, also a member of McCarthy's staff.

Stride Forward

By the year 1960, fraternities at Dartmouth College must eliminate from their charters all discriminatory clauses based on "race, religion, or national origin"—or discontinue operations on campus. This new ruling was adopted by the students themselves after a close vote: 1,128 to 1,120.

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason... enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco...light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste better... always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.
